Medical Student Dr. Sarthak Jain from LNMC & J.K. Hospital Makes Strides in Robotic Surgery at Japan's Renowned Kameda Medical Center

Dr. Sarthak Jain, a medical student from L.N. Medical College & J.K. Hospital Bhopal, was one of only two Indian students selected for MBBS training in robotic gastroenterological surgery and general internal medicine. He trained at Kameda Medical Center in Japan, the first Japanese hospital accredited by the Joint Commission International (JCI) and ranked 45th globally among the world's best hospitals. During his time at Kameda, Dr. Sarthak assisted in and performed surgeries using the Da Vinci Robot, making India proud with his accomplishments.

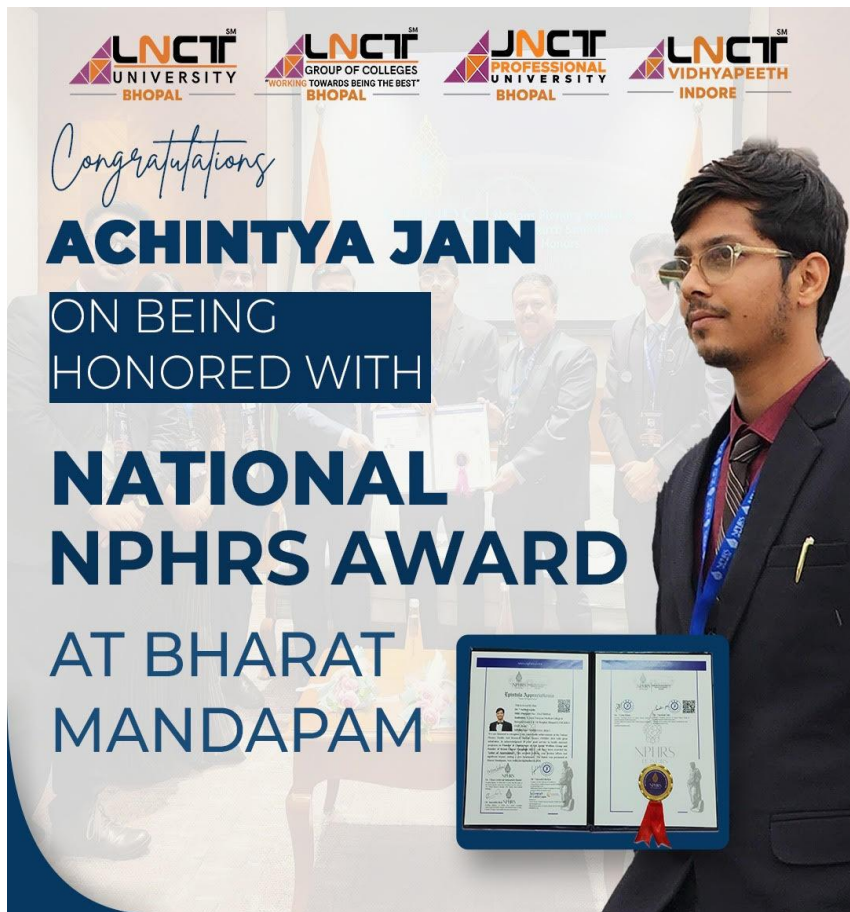

In addition to his medical training, Dr. Sarthak is the founder and chairperson of the Genesis Organization, an NGO dedicated to human welfare and social health.

Dr. Nalini Mishra, Dean of L.N. Medical College & J.K. Hospital Bhopal, commended his achievements, stating, "Sarthak was a source of inspiration for all medical students in India. His selection for training in Japan was a challenging process, but he made our college proud."

Achintya Jain was recently honored at the Bharat Mandapam during the NPHRS Honors 2024 event for his impactful social work, specifically the breast cancer awareness campaign (BCC) we conducted in collaboration with LNMC&RC

2nd year MBBS students achieved won the prize in Pharma Quest organized by AIIMS, Bhopal. Students from many colleges from all over India participated in the competition.
